

Metropolitan Transportation Authority

State of New York

Isaac K. Takyi, Ph.D., Senior Director
Metropolitan Transportation Authority
Information Technology Department

Isaac Kwame Takyi is a Senior Director and New York City Transit (NYCT) Agency (Technology) Advocate with the Metropolitan Transportation Authority (MTA) of New York. He is a Past President and a Board Member of Intelligent Transportation Society of New York. Working in the Metropolitan Transportation Authority Information Technology (MTA – IT) Department, he manages the productive relationship between the MTA - IT Department and NYCT Business Units making sure that what IT develops for the business is aligned with what the business needs. He is the liaison, trusted advisor, interface and customer contact for the business executives. Previously, he was responsible for IT Governance, Standards and Policy where he established an executive governance process to make sound IT investment decisions.

In addition to his duties at NYCT, Dr. Takyi is the Co-Chairman of the Transit Communication Interface Profiles (TCIP) Standards Group administered by the American Public Transportation Association, and an industry leader and expert in Intelligent Transportation System for Transit. He taught as adjunct faculty member at the University of Pennsylvania, City University of New York and the New Jersey Institute of Technology.

Isaac Takyi holds a Ph. D degree in City and Regional Planning, a Master's of City Planning, and a Master of Arts, (all with a specialty in Urban Transportation) from the University of Pennsylvania, Philadelphia, PA.