

Jeff Randall, P.E., PTOE
Sr. ITS Manager
WSP USA

Jeff is an Assistant Vice President and Sr. ITS Manager with WSP USA. In this role, he is responsible for project development and delivery of ITS planning, design, and integration business in New York and the northeast.

Jeff is an accomplished manager with more than 38 years of domestic and international experience in traffic/transportation engineering and ITS. His experience includes quality assurance and control, research, engineering and management of projects focused on planning, design and integration of safety, traffic control systems, traffic management centers, traffic operations, transportation management centers, transportation systems management and operations, incident management, and connected vehicles.

Jeff is licensed Professional Traffic Operations Engineer and a licensed Professional Engineer in New York and six other states. He earned his BSCE in Civil Engineering from The Pennsylvania State University.